

We asked Leigh from North Wales Ambulance Service for advice on the emergency bleed kits. Leigh confirmed that the kit contains four emergency items of which as an Ambulance Responder he is only trained to use two items. He therefore does not recommend installing the kits with out providing full training. Leigh also stated that the kits are intended for stabbing and shootings and are mainly recommended for large city centres.